

CONSTRUCTION SURVEYING

To better serve our clients, we provide field investigation and construction staking for the projects we design. This streamlines construction efforts and reduces time at the end of the project when preparing record drawings or “as-builts”. Services include topographic and location surveys of existing sites, as well as, staking services during the construction process. We employ technical staff to perform field tasks and maintain the latest surveying equipment for quick implementation and reduced overall project schedules.

